

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

INTRODUCTION.

The publication of a Roster of the Soldiers of Ohio in the War of the Rebellion and the War with Mexico was authorized by the following resolution, offered by Mr. VAN CLEAF, and adopted by the Legislature, almost without opposition, on May 15, 1884:

Resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, That the governor, secretary of state and adjutant-general be and they are hereby authorized to secure the publication, in book form, of the complete roster of all the regiments or parts of regiments, furnished by Ohio, in the War with Mexico, and in the War of the Rebellion; said publication to contain the main items of the record of each officer and soldier, so far as the same is attainable, from the rolls now in the adjutant-general's office, and in the war department at Washington. And they shall begin said work as soon as practicable, and continue the same until the said printed roster is complete; the printing and binding to be under the direction of the commissioners of public printing, and the publication, when completed, shall be under the control of the officials first named, for such disposal as the general assembly may hereafter direct.

The publication of this volume completes the Roster of Ohio troops in twelve volumes. All Regiments and parts of Regiments, Independent companies, etc., in the War with Mexico, and in the War of the Rebellion, have been diligently searched for through the records in the Adjutant-General's department in Ohio and also at Washington, D. C., until every organization having a right under the laws in the Roster of Ohio Troops has been secured and published. It will be noticed that there are troops in this volume who served in Kentucky and West Virginia regiments; many of these organizations were completed in Ohio and marched to the state as given above. The soldiers in the published roster of these outside regiments are all Ohio men, and Ohio received their credit in the quota furnished under government call. The veteran organization published herein are soldiers who served three years in Ohio Regiments and were honorably discharged, re-enlisted for one year in Hancock's corps—the record in this volume completes the military history of these soldiers. The Naval Roster as given, received the greatest attention possible, the commission being compelled to rely entirely for the correctness of this work on the Navy Department at Washington, D. C., as the records were all secured from that source. Hundreds of names however were added to those received from Washington by the Naval Associations of this state and other sources, and the records obtained from the Navy Department.

The Mexican War Roster, comprising five full regiments and twenty-one companies, we believe will meet the full indorsement of the Mexican Survivors Association of Ohio. The commission spared neither time nor money to secure the data and compile a roster as near perfection as it was possible, when it is considered how difficult it was to obtain the Mexican service in every detail after a lapse of nearly a half century.

In the Addenda to the Roll of Honor will be found some seventeen hundred names, the result of a careful comparison with company rosters and regimental Rolls of Honor heretofore published. Believing that all soldiers who sacrificed their lives should be inscribed on this roll, this additional roll is now published by regiments. The "Errata" is principally the result of notifications from the War Department, removing the charges of desertion, re-mustering and amending records and certified copies of discharges received by the Adjutant-General since the several volumes have been published.

The following table will give organizations contained in the eleven volumes previously published: "Volume I"—1st to 22nd Regiments, O. V. I., (3 months); 6th, 8th and 11th Regiments Reserve Infantry; Jones' Independent Battalion Ohio Volunteer Infantry; Wallace Guards; Dennison Guards and Trumbull Guards; Departmental Corps, Ohio Volunteer Infantry; 1st to 10th Independent Companies Ohio Volunteer Sharpshooters; 5th and 27th Regiments U. George's Independent Companies Cavalry—issued July 15, 1893; "Volume II"—Regiments 1 to 20, inclusive—issued October 15, 1886; "Volume III"—Regiments 21 to 36, inclusive—issued January 15, 1887; "Volume IV"—Regiments 37 to 53, inclusive—August 15, 1887; "Volume V"—Regiments 54 to 69, inclusive—October 15, 1887; "Volume VI"—Regiments 70 to 86, inclusive—February 1, 1888; "Volume VII"—Regiments 87 to 108, inclusive—August 1, 1888; "Volume VIII"—Regiments 110 to 140, inclusive—December 1, 1888; "Volume IX"—Regiments 141 to 184, inclusive—March 15, 1889; "Volume X"—Containing Regiments of Infantry from 185 to 198, inclusive; 1st and 2nd Regiments Heavy Artillery; 1st Regiment Light Artillery; 1st to 26th Independent Batteries Light Artillery, inclusive; Williams' Ironton Independent Battery Light Artillery; Paulsen's Independent Battery Light Artillery; 8th Independent Battery Light Artillery (60 days' service); 2nd Independent Battery Light Artillery (60 days' service); 8th Independent Battery Light Artillery (four months' service); "Volume XI"—Cavalry Regiments, 1 to 13, inclusive; 4th and 5th Independent Battalions of Cavalry; Merrill's Horse or 2nd Missouri Cavalry; Union Light Guard; Harlan's Light Cavalry or Co. FIFTH INDEPENDENT COMPANY OHIO VOLUNTEER CAVALRY.

This company was organized at Cincinnati, Ohio, and composed principally of residents of that city.

It was one of the four companies that formed the organization known as General Fremont's Body Guard and commanded by Major Charles Zagoni.

Three companies of the guard, numbering 150 men, attacked a force of 1,900 organized men in open daylight at Springfield, Mo., October 25, 1861, and put them to flight.

While moving down a lane and before taking down a fence and forming for the charge, the guards received a heavy cross-fire, from which forty men were thrown down and disabled by being hit themselves or having their horses shot, so that not more than 110 were engaged in the real attack. The loss of the guards in this action, the only one in which they were engaged, was sixteen killed, twenty-five wounded and ten captured, four of the killed and thirteen of the wounded being members of this company.

The captured men were soon afterward exchanged. The Rebel loss was heavy, being given by Reid, in Ohio in the War, as 107 killed and thirty captured.

SIXTH INDEPENDENT COMPANY OHIO VOLUNTEER CAVALRY.

This company was recruited in the counties of Greene and Hamilton in August and September, 1861, and rendezvoused at Camp Dennison near Cincinnati.

On September 23, 1861, it was ordered to Washington, D. C., and after persistent effort by the captain, it was armed and equipped and splendidly mounted

Strict discipline being maintained the men made rapid progress in their new profession.

The company was finally attached to the 3d Regiment New York Cavalry and was denominated Company "L," and on January 9, 1862, joined the regiment at Camp Bates near Poolesville.

On March 1, 1862, the company crossed the Potomac river at Harper's Ferry and moved to the outposts beyond Charlestown, Va. Berrysville was soon occupied and on the following morning engaged in a skirmish with Ashley's Cavalry driving them several miles. The company then marched to Winchester, where it made a successful dash at Ashley and Stewart, returned to Harper's Ferry and on the day of the battle of Winchester marched for Washington, D. C., remaining there until the latter part of April when it moved to Alexandria preparatory to embarking for North Carolina—arriving at Newberne on May 12. Until September 1 the company was occupied in scouting and in expeditions to the interior, when the company moved to Washington, North Carolina, to join an expedition to the Roanoke in the direction of Hamilton.

On September 6 the expedition moved, this company taking the advance, when a volley of musketry was heard on the opposite side of the town.

Capt. Garrard wheeled the advance and dashed in the direction of the firing. The rebels were completely routed with a heavy loss. This company had ten men wounded and fourteen horses killed and disabled. The company proceeded to Plymouth, and ten days later to Newberne. The company was engaged in scouting and picket duty until December 11, when General Foster moved from Newberne, intending to penetrate, if possible, Raleigh; during this movement the company acted as Provost Guard of the army and shared in the battles of Kingston, White Hall and Goldsboro Bridge. During the siege of Washington which immediately followed the rebel attack on Newberne, March 13, 1863, this company was kept continually on the scout. The company shared in all the raids, scouts, skirmishes and battles around Richmond in the spring of 1864; some were killed and others captured and when the company's time expired but very few were left to muster out.

During its term of service the company furnished to the service one colonel, one major, four captains and fourteen lieutenants.

ONE MONTH'S SERVICE.

On or about the 2d day of September, 1862, Major General Lew Wallace, by order of Major General H. G. Wright, then in command of the Department of Ohio, assumed command of the cities of Cincinnati, Newport and Covington and the defenses thereof, then threatened by the Confederate forces under General Kirby Smith. Martial law was at once declared and the citizens called upon to turn out en-masse to erect fortifications and defenses on all the approaches leading to the cities of Newport and Covington.

Major General Lew Wallace finding himself without any available military at his command for immediate defense, and to protect the workmen on the fortifications, caused the Second Regiment Reserve Militia which had been organized under the militia law of the State in July, 1861, to be immediately mustered into the service of the United States and sent to the front to protect the workmen in the entrenchments and on the fortifications. The regiment served the Government faithfully during its thirty days' service, being on duty day and night nearly the entire term of enlistment, rendering most valuable service in protecting the working parties and doing picket duty in sight of the enemy. Having been called into the service without authority from the Secretary of War, the War Department declined to pay the regiment for the faithful and honorable service rendered; congress, however, to show its appreciation of services rendered the Government, came to its relief by enacting the following:

"Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Second Regiment, Third Brigade, Ohio Volunteer Militia, mustered into the service of the United States at Cincinnati, Ohio, on the 4th day of September, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, notwithstanding irregularity may have occurred in the manner of their mustering into the service of the United States, be paid for the time the officers and men were in the service, respectively, after being so mustered, not however to exceed the period of thirty days.

"Approved June 8, 1864."

The Regiment was mustered out of service at Cincinnati, Ohio, April 30, 1865, to date October 4th, 1862, by William B. Love, Captain 11th U. S. Infantry.

FIRST REGIMENT KENTUCKY VOLUNTEER INFANTRY.

THREE YEARS' SERVICE.

This regiment was organized at Camp Clay, Pendleton, Ohio, in June, 1861, under Col. James V. Guthrie, and was mustered into the United States service on the 4th day of June, 1861, by Major S. Burbank, First U. S. Infantry, to serve three years.

The regiment was composed entirely of Ohio men at its organization and the roster as given below records only those soldiers who were original members of the regiment.

After organization it was ordered to the department of West Virginia, where it performed much valuable service in the early engagements of the war. Col. Guthrie resigned December 21, 1861, and Col. David A. Enyart was commissioned in his stead and commanded the regiment until mustered out of service.

In January, 1862, the regiment was ordered to the department of the Cumberland and took an active part in the advance on Nashville, Tenn., and participated in numerous battles in which loss was sustained. Company E was detached as Artillery in January, 1862, designated "Simmond's Independent Battery, Kentucky Light Artillery," and finally as the "23d Independent Battery, Ohio Light Artillery."

The regiment was mustered out of service at Covington, Kentucky, by reason of expiration of term of service June 18, 1864. The Ohio men who lost their lives in defense of the Nation during the three years' service were ninety-seven in number, forty-two of whom were killed in battle, fifteen died of wounds received in battle and forty died of disease.

SECOND KENTUCKY VOLUNTEER INFANTRY

THREE YEARS' SERVICE.

This regiment was organized at Camp Clay, Pendleton, Ohio, under Col. William E. Woodruff, and was mustered into the United States service on the 13th day of June, 1861, by Major Burbank, U. S. Army.

The regiment, which was composed entirely of Ohio men, left Cincinnati, Ohio, July, 1861, for Guyandotte, Va., marched to Barboursville, Va., and drove the rebels commanded by Jenkins from the bluff; marched to Camp Poco, Va., near Scary Creek, at which place Col. Woodruff, Lt. Col. Neff and Captains Hurd and Austin were captured by the enemy; the regiment was engaged with Floyd at Gauley Bridge, and from there went into winter quarters at Charleston, Va., January 25, 1862.

The regiment was ordered to Bairdstown, Ky., arriving at that place February 5, 1862; marched to Pittsburg Landing, arriving there on the evening of the 6th of April. It participated in the siege of Corinth, Miss., after which it was quartered at Athens, Ala.; from which place it moved to Murfreesboro, Tenn., to guard the railroad between that point and Nashville. While detailed on this duty, companies E and G were captured by Forest's cavalry in July 1862. In September the regiment participated in the Bragg and Buell campaign through Kentucky.

From Murfreesboro, Tenn., it moved south to Chattanooga, and on the 19th and 20th of September, 1863, took part in the battle of Chickamauga, Ga.

On the 17th of May, 1864, the regiment left Ottawa Station, Tenn., fifteen miles from Chattanooga, for Kingston, Ga., thence to Resaca, Ga., where it remained doing garrison duty until June 3, 1864, when it was ordered to Covington, Ky., to be mustered out of service. The regiment was mustered out of the service by reason of the expiration of its term of service June 19, 1864. During the three years' term of service, 124 brave Ohio men lost their lives while in defense of their country, forty-eight of whom were killed in battle, twenty-seven died of wounds received in battle and forty-nine died from disease.

The official list of battles in which this regiment bore an honorable part, has not yet been published by the War Department, but the following list has been compiled during the preparation of this work:

FIRST REGIMENT OHIO VOLUNTEER INFANTRY.

MEXICAN SERVICE.

This Regiment was organized at Camp Washington, near Cincinnati, June 23, 1846, and received into the service of the United States by General Wool by transfer from the Governor of Ohio on that date. The companies composing the organization were recruited as follows: Companies B and C, May 30, 1846, at Dayton, Ohio; D, June 1, 1846, at Portsmouth, Ohio; F, June 6, 1846, at Lower Sandusky, Ohio; and Company A, May 30, 1846; E, May 27, 1846; G, June 5, 1846; H, May 30, 1846; I, May 30, 1846; K, June 4, 1846, at Cincinnati, Ohio.

After the regimental formation by the election of Colonel Alexander M. Mitchell, active preparations were made for the embarkation of the Regiment to Mexico on the steamer "New World," which was made a few days later. The Regiment passed Vicksburg July 6, and arrived at New Orleans the following Saturday after a speedy, safe and pleasant voyage.

From thence it proceeded to Point Isabel, Texas, and to the enemy's country, marching to Camargo. General Taylor arrived at this place August 8, 1846, and on the 17th orders were issued for the troops to prepare to move in the direction of Monterey. The First Regiment leaving Camargo September 6 and arrived before Monterey on the 19th. The Regiment entered town to the right, being assailed at every step by heavy fire from the enemy in front and flank. Col. Mitchell and Adjutant Armstrong were wounded and Lieutenant Matthew was killed, while the regiment confronted the enemy's second work No. 3, Rincondel, Diablo. The battle of Monterey, September 21, 1846, was won and the following letter of Brig.-Gen. Thomas L. Hamer to Governor Bartley of Ohio, speaks of the gallant part this regiment performed during that battle:

MONTEREY, MEXICO, Oct. 12, 1846.

DEAR SIR:

Enclosed you have the returns of a number of elections held in the First Regiment, Ohio Volunteers, for filling offices in different companies.

The returns are rather informal but the elections were all held in the pursuance of notice and the judges and clerks duly sworn.

I hope, therefore, commissions will be issued without delay and forwarded to us at this place. If we should leave for Saltillo before they arrive they will be forwarded to us at that place.

I wish you could have been present and seen your First Regiment in the battle of Monterey. I am sure you would have been proud of them. They walked into the most galling and murderous cross-fires of the enemy with the coolness of old regular soldiers—not a man or an officer flinching. They formed and fired upon the enemy with steadiness and obeyed every order promptly.

They received great credit from every officer of the Army who saw them. I regret exceedingly that our other two regiments were not with us—as I have the same confidence in them as in the First. If the war goes on—we shall all be in it before long—and you who are at home need have no fear of our troops sustaining the honor of Ohio.

We have now an armistice of eight weeks—and when that closes we shall probably go at it again on a larger scale.

We are bringing up reinforcements and heavy battering cannon.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

TH. L. HAMER, Brig. Gen., U. S. A.

His Excellency, M. BARTLEY,
Columbus, Ohio.

Nothing more is heard of this regiment until February 24, 1847, when two companies of this regiment, under command of Captains Bradley and Vandever, went to Marin to the relief of Lieutenant-Colonel Irvin, of the 2d O. V. I. On March 4, Major Giddings, of this regiment, was ordered to march from Monterey to Camargo to escort Mr. Crittenden and Major Coffee (bearers of dispatches from headquarters) with three companies of this regiment, under command of Captains Bradley, Armstrong and Kenneally, two Kentucky companies, and two pieces of artillery—a command of about two hundred and sixty (260) men.

The massacre at Ramos and the attack upon Colonel Morgan's Regiment, at Agna Frio, having occurred a few days previous, the enemy being in force, the march was made with much circumspection as the many embarrassments attending the movement of 150 wagons under escort—the train being two miles in length. With so small a force, on the 7th, when within one mile of Ceralvo, the escort was attacked by Mexican Cavalry, under Generals Urrea and Romero. Major Giddings, in his report to Colonel Mitchell, says, the wagon-masters were directed to park the train with as much celerity as possible. I advanced my artillery and three companies of infantry a short distance, and immediately opened with cannister shot upon their line charging me in front.

Although apparently confused they continued to advance, but were promptly checked by the fire of the infantry supporting the piece, one or two more rounds from which drove them back.

Many of the drivers had deserted their teams and the frightened mules dashed into the chapparel on both sides of the road. About forty of the wagons were immediately burned by the Mexicans, among them that containing the ammunition, which, however, killed and wounded ten of the enemy by its unexpected explosion.

The train was broken and Captain Kenneally, in the rear of the train, was surrounded by the enemy and he received under cover of a flag the following:

"The Colonel Langberg offers to all the soldiers life and security if you surrender yourself.
EMELIO LANGBERG, Foreign Officer."

Upon receipt of this note Captain Kenneally requested an interview with Colonel Langberg and demanded of him one hour to consult Major Giddings in command, who refused and desired that the parley be terminated.

Captain Bradley, of this regiment, cut through the enemy's line in the most gallant manner and the command was once more united.

Towards night the enemy drew off towards the town in which direction Major Giddings continued his march with little progress as the wagons, closed in mass, were much impeded by thickets skirting the road.

The troops slept on their arms until morning and at dawn of the 8th took possession of Ceralvo without opposition. Major Giddings remained at this place until the 12th, with only ten or twelve rounds of ammunition in the cartridge boxes. Colonel Curtis, of the 3d O. V. I., came to the rescue on that date, when the necessary supplies were received from him and the journey continued, arriving at Camargo on the 15th. Captain Bradley lost two privates killed and the train 15 teamsters, while the Mexican loss was forty-five out of a force of 1,600. The Regiment performed hazardous duty, serving the government in whatever capacity was assigned for it until mustered out of the service, from June 11 to 15, 1847. The regimental loss during this brief period of service was twenty-four brave soldiers killed and forty-two died of disease, a total of sixty-six men.

The list of battles in which this regiment bore an honorable part is as follows :

SECOND REGIMENT, OHIO VOLUNTEER INFANTRY.

MEXICAN SERVICE.

This Regiment was organized at general rendezvous, Camp Washington, near Cincinnati, Ohio, June 22, 1846.

Upon this date Capt. George W. Morgan, of the Mount Vernon company, was duly elected Colonel. The companies composing the regiment were recruited as follows: Company A, June 1, 1846, at Chillicothe, O.; B, May 27, 1846, at Mount Vernon, O.; C, June 6, 1846, at Hillsboro, O.; D, June 3, 1846, at Logan O.; E, June 1, 1846, at Athens, O.; F, May 23, 1846, and K, May 26, 1846, at Columbus, O.; G, May 29, 1846, at Lancaster, O.; H, June 2, 1846, at Newark, O., and I, June 1, 1846, at Circleville, O. Active drilling was commenced at once, and the regiment disciplined for the field.

July 9, 1846, the regiment left Cincinnati, O., for Mexico, the journey to the enemy's country consuming about three weeks.

Upon the arrival of the regiment in Mexico, Gen. Taylor ordered Col. Morgan and command to garrison Camargo, which city was the supply depot for Gen. Taylor's army, it being located at the head of navigation of the Rio Grande, on the main branch of the Rio San Juan. From this place the regiment guarded supply trains en route to the advance army, and did escort duty between Camargo and Monterey.

Later, the regiment moved and occupied three posts on the line. Col. Morgan, with four companies, at Cerralvo, Lt. Col. Irwin, with three companies, at Marin, and Maj. Wall, with three companies, at Punta Aguda.

During the battle of Buena Vista, on the night of the 22d of February, Gen. Taylor, with an escort, left the battlefield for Saltillo, and while there dispatched a message to Col. Morgan, at Cerralvo, to concentrate the regiment at that place and march to Monterey forthwith. The message was received on the night of the 23d, and Maj. Wall, being notified at once, arrived late in the night with his battalion, and the march for Monterey was commenced the morning of the 24th, continuing the march through the night and until daylight on the 25th, when firing was heard in the direction of Marin. After a halt of one hour the march was continued. During the day twenty-five wagoners and wagonmasters, who had escaped from Lieut. Barbour's train and had fled to the mountains for safety, joined the regiment.

At 2 P. M. the regiment passed the dead bodies of Lieut. Barbour's wagon train, but finding no wounded on the ground, the march was continued to Marin, arriving there two hours later. The town was nearly deserted—Lieut. Col. Irwin having, with his command of three companies, marched for Monterey at noon. At Marin the regiment learned that Lieut. Barbour and command had been captured. Gen. Jose Urrea, with a force of 1,000 lancers, was before Marin for two days and several skirmishes took place between the troops of Lt. Col. Irwin and Gen. Urrea, in which the enemy lost several men. At 12 P. M. the march to Monterey was resumed and the enemy met for the first time near Aqua Fria. The command was here formed into a square and marching in that order until San Francisco was reached, during which time several rencontres took place with the enemy. A messenger was dispatched to Lt. Col. Irwin for assistance, and at 11 A. M. he reported with 150 men and two field pieces under command of Capt. Bradley, of the 1st Ohio, and after an animated action of four and one-half hours the enemy retreated in confusion. During this action the loss in killed was three soldiers and one friendly Mexican, one mortally and one slightly wounded. The march was again resumed and by forced marches reached Saltillo, passing that point and establishing permanent camp on the battlefield of Buena Vista, where the regiment remained until the following order was received :

HEADQUARTERS, BUENA VISTA, May 16, 1847.

Orders No. 190.

The General commanding cannot see the Ohio regiments separate from his command without expressing the entire satisfaction which their good discipline, orderly conduct, and fine military appearance have uniformly given him, and which causes him so deeply to regret that they are not to be with him in the future operations against Mexico.

The Second and Third Regiments will return to their homes with the consciousness that they have done great credit to their state, rendered good service to their country, and that they bear with them the hearty good will and sincere admiration of the companies and commander.

In parting with the officers and men the General wishes them a pleasant journey and a happy return to their families and friends.

By command of

BRIGADIER-GENERAL WOOL.

IRVIN McDOWELL, A. D. C.

Arriving at New Orleans the regiment was mustered out of the United States service from the 21st to 23d day of June, 1847.

The regiment lost, during its period of service, 6 killed, 2 drowned, and 60 died of disease.

A few days later the companies reported at the principal rendezvous near Cincinnati, Ohio, to Adjutant-General Samuel R. Curtis, Commandant of Post.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 4.

CAMP WASHINGTON, CINCINNATI, May 27, 1846.

The encampment for Volunteers of Ohio, has been located at this place and companies are already encamped in the field. In commemoration of the ancient fort established at this place, and in honor of the illustrious name that is revered by all our countrymen, this camp will be denominated "Camp Washington," and all reports, orders and communications will be dated and issued accordingly. The order then gives the rules and regulations of "Camp Washington" and closes with an address to the troops as follows:

To the Volunteers and Militia of Ohio:

You will see by the above order that your friends and associates are assembling in the tented field. They are expected soon to bid farewell to Ohio, and take their places in the gathering armies of the United States. They need arms, accoutrements, camp equipage, and all kinds of stores. In the hurry of enrollment it has been impossible for the government to furnish supplies ready for the occasion. The arms and accoutrements are scattered in all parts of the state. The Quartermaster of the state has called for them, but you alone can make that requisition available to us. Before he could possibly collect them our volunteers would have to march with any weapons they may find at hand. Being first in the field they should have first choice. If you cannot go yourself give your gun, your knapsack, your tent, even your sword to those who go before you. Let them be concentrated here, and if you need them hereafter they will not be the worse for having done good service. Do not withhold arms and do not keep the best for mere ornaments at home, when they should be turned against the hostile enemies of your country.

SAMUEL R. CURTIS,

Adjutant-General and Commandant of Post.

At the organization of the regiment, Samuel R. Curtis was commissioned Colonel. On July 3, 1846, the regiment left Camp Washington and marched to Cincinnati. The regiment was here made into two divisions of five companies each. The first division, under Colonel Curtis, took passage on the steamboat Tuscaloosa, and the second division, under Lieutenant-Colonel McCook on the steamboat New Era, for New Orleans, at which place the regiment arrived July 10, 1846, encamping four miles below the city at Camp Jackson, the battlefield of New Orleans. Left Camp Jackson July 13, on the brig Orleans for Brazos Island, Texas, anchoring off the island on the 20th and landing on the 24th day of July.

After a few days rest the regiment took up a line of march for Matamoras, via the mouth of the Rio Grande, keeping up the right bank. On August 8, the regiment arrived at Fort Brown, opposite Matamoras City, and established camp on the bank of the river, above and in the rear of Fort Brown, which was called "Camp Curtis" in honor of Colonel Curtis. On August 18, 1846, in the night the regiment crossed the river to repel a large Mexican force that was reported near the city. This was done to test the courage of the men.

The regiment arrived in the city at daylight and established "Camp McCook," between the city and river on Mexican soil. Two companies, however, were left in Fort Brown for garrison duty. The regiment remained in Camp McCook until February 2, 1847.

On the arrival of General Winfield Scott the regiment was placed in Taylor's division, called the "Army of the Rio Grande," and left on the same day for Camargo, marching up the left bank of the river 160 miles, arriving at that place February 13, 1847. Here was found a large fort, called "Ohio," partly completed which the regiment attempted to finish. On February 17, 1847, three companies left Camargo, under command of Lieutenant-Colonel McCook, to garrison the town of Meir, to guard wagon-trains, and, in fact, to do escort duty from Camargo, via Meir, Ceralvo and Monterey. On March 7, the regiment was ordered to advance on Monterey, forthwith, taking with it four companies of Virginia troops (infantry), one company of dragoons, two pieces of cannon, a supply train of 123 wagons for General Taylor, and additional wagons for the regiment and other troops. News had reached the regiment of Colonel Morgan's fight with a body of Mexican cavalry near Marin, and also that Major Giddings, of the First Ohio, was hemmed in with two hundred men at Ceralvo and in great danger of being cut to pieces. The regiment hurried up to his relief.

After passing Ceralvo a large Mexican cavalry was on the right and left of the regiment for two days and nights constantly threatening it. Proceeding upon the march the regiment finally met General Taylor with a regiment of Arkansas cavalry and a small battery of three or four guns, at the place, where it had been learned from a captured Mexican, that they had planned to give the regiment battle. General Taylor concluded to pursue this Mexican force, taking this regiment, one company of dragoons and a battery of four guns. He followed them to Cadereyta, pressing them so closely that they left a few of our wounded which they held as prisoners.

The regiment returned to Monterey and from there to Buena Vista, via Rinconada Pass, Saltillo, and arrived March 25, 1847, on the battlefield of Buena Vista, remaining in camp with the main army until May 18, 1847, when by the following general order the regiment started homeward:

ORDERS NO. 190.

HEADQUARTERS, BUENA VISTA, May 16, 1847.

The General commanding cannot see the Ohio regiments separate from his command without expressing the entire satisfaction which their good discipline, orderly conduct, and fine military appearance have uniformly given him, and which causes him so deeply to regret they are not to be with him in the future operations against Mexico.

The Second and Third Regiments will return to their homes with the consciousness that they have done great credit to their state, rendered good service to their country and that they bear with them the hearty good will and the sincere admiration of the companies and commander. In parting with the officers and men, the General wishes them a pleasant journey and a happy return to their families and friends.

By command of Brigadier-General Wool.

IRVIN MCDOWELL, A. D. C.

The regiment arrived at the mouth of the Rio Grande June 5, 1847, sailed from Brazos Island, June 7, on the schooner "Bounty" for New Orleans, La., arriving at New Orleans June 15, 1847, and was mustered out of service at New Orleans from June 18 to 24, 1847.

The regimental loss during the year's service was sixty-four men killed and died of disease.

FOURTH REGIMENT OHIO VOLUNTEER INFANTRY.

MEXICAN SERVICE.

The companies composing this organization were recruited as follows: Companies A, May 1-19, 1847; F, April 29, 1847; H, May 15, 1847; and I, April 30, 1847, at Cincinnati, Ohio; B, May 8, 1847, and E, May 10, 1847, at Columbus, Ohio; C, May 4, 1847, at Lower Sandusky, Ohio; D, April 26, to May 29, 1847, at Ganges, Ohio; G, May 6, 1847, at Millersburg, Ohio; and K, May 4, 1847, at Dayton, Ohio.

During the month of June, 1847, the companies arrived at Cincinnati, Ohio, and were mustered into the service of the United States, and the regimental organization formed by the election of Charles H. Brough as Colonel.

The regiment left Cincinnati July 1, 1847, for New Orleans, via steamer, and crossed the Gulf of Mexico on steamer "Telegraph," landing near the mouth of the Rio Grande river, marched to Matamoras and garrisoned that town until September 4, 1847, when it proceeded to Vera Cruz, arriving there eleven days later.

When Gen. Lane marched to attack the city of Huamantla, October 9, 1847, the regiment was ordered to remain and guard the packed wagon train.

On October 12, 1847, the regiment entered Puebla by the main road, to the rescue of Col. Childs, who held that city for 28 days; the siege was passed and the enemy left for Atlixco. The regiment marched from Perote, October 19, 1847, and participated in the battle of Atlixco, of that date.

The force under Gen. Lane halted at Santa Isabella, a short distance from the town. When the enemy was sighted the 4th was ordered to occupy a large deep ravine to the left of the road and flank the same. This movement confused the enemy; when the cavalry charged and followed them up for about one and one-half miles, skirmishing with them. After a running fight of about four miles the troops arrived before the city. The town was shelled after night with much destruction, a beautiful moonlight allowing the gunners to direct the shots to the most thickly populated parts of the town. This regiment cautiously entered the town one hour later, when the enemy retreated before it and the city was captured—the loss to the Mexicans being 219 killed and 300 wounded, while the American loss was one killed and one wounded. Atlixco was the headquarters for the guerrillas in this section of the country and the seat of government for the state. News having been received that two pieces of artillery had been finished by the enemy at Guexocingo, a portic the regiment proceeded there, searched the town; the guns had been rem but the carriages were found and destroyed. The regiment then returne Pueblo, where regimental headquarters were established and garrison duty formed for about eight months.

The regimental loss during its brief term of service was 76 men— killed in battle, one died of wounds received in battle, and seventy-one of ease. The regiment was mustered out of service from July 15 to 24, 184 Cincinnati, Ohio.

The battle in which this regiment bore an honorable part was:

ATLEXCO, MEXICO.....OCTOBER 19, 1847.

SECOND 2D OHIO VOLUNTEER INFANTRY.

MEXICAN SERVICE.

The companies comprising this organization were enrolled as follows: Company A July 31, 1847, and I, August 7, 1847, at Cincinnati, Ohio; B, July 15 to September 16, 1847, at Newark, Ohio; C, August 10, 1847, at Batavia, Ohio; D, July 10, 1847 to August 31, 1847, at Columbus, Ohio; E, August 27, 1847, at Somerset, Ohio; F, July 31, 1847, at Lancaster, Ohio; G, August 3, 1847 at Mt. Vernon, Ohio; H, July 24, 1847, at Circleville, Ohio, and K July 16 to August 28, 1847, at Chillicothe, Ohio.

After the return of the Second Regiment from Mexico, the War Department authorized Lt. Colonel Irwin to effect a new organization. It was, however, soon ascertained that only a small portion of the companies would again go into service. In a few weeks the ten companies were recruited, accepted and ordered to report at Camp Wool, Cincinnati, Ohio, at which place William Irwin was elected Colonel. The regiment was mustered into service about September 1, 1847, and on September 10 embarked on three steamboats for New Orleans.

(It was intended that this regiment should be known as the "Fifth Ohio Volunteer Infantry," but the records of the War Department show that the regiment was mustered in and mustered out as the Second 2d O. V. I.)

Two weeks later the regiment arrived at New Orleans, and there embarked on three sailing vessels bound for Vera Cruz, Mexico, at which place it arrived about October 4, 1847, and went into camp about two miles west of the city, where the regiment was disciplined and drilled for active service. October 20, 1847, General Caleb Cushing ordered the regiment to march to the interior with three other regiments, a company of cavalry and six pieces of artillery, to guard 1,000 wagons and 2,000 pack mules, loaded with ammunition, provisions and clothing bound for the city of Mexico. Upon reaching the city of Mexico it was found to be occupied by the American army and negotiations for peace were in progress. This regiment continued its march until Pueblo was reached November 1, 1847, having brought the immense train safely through to this point. Here the regiment was divided, companies A, B, C and D were detailed for duty in Pueblo, and the other six companies with a new company L, that had been attached to it were ordered to Rio Frio, midway through the mountains and about 25 miles east of the city of Mexico.

At this place several soldiers were killed in skirmishes with guerrillas who infested the mountainous districts—the regiment being kept in active service in this way until the war closed.

Peace was declared in June, 1848, and the army began its return to the United States. The 5th O. V. I. reached New Orleans on July 4, 1848, from thence to Cincinnati, where the several companies were mustered out of the service of the United States from the 24th to the 26th of July, 1848.

The regimental loss during its brief service was very large. Seventy-four men lost their lives in skirmishes with the guerrilla bands and from diseases incident to the Mexican climate.
